CYANOGAS

CALCIUM CYANIDE

KILLS ANTS INSTANTLY!

Ant nests can dangerously disturb root systems. Ants themselves are the "caretakers" of certain destructive insects such as aphids and mealy bugs. Protect your lawns and gardens with CYANOGAS.

A small quantity of CYANOGAS injected into the ant nest evolves a gas which penetrates quickly throughout—killing all ants present. They need not eat or even touch it.

Do not use CYANOGAS indoors. If ants are found in the house trace the line of foragers back to their nests in the soil.

To apply CYANOGAS most effectively probe the nest with a thin stick or screwdriver to about 6 or 8 inches. Adjust spout to can—allow about as much CYANOGAS as can be held on a dime to flow into the open hole. Then close hole with dirt.

CYANOGAS is also sold in larger containers at lower prices. Ask your dealer for literature giving instructions for control of pests other than lawn and garden ants.

WHY AND HOW Floralife LENGTHENS FLOWER LIFE

Your garden is your precious possession. You toil over it until your back is ready to break. But you love the work. You don't begrudge the toil nor the constant monetary expenditures involved. Nor do you mind "the long, long nights of waiting." Still, beyond question, you've worked hard and have a sizable investment.

Finally—at long last—the big day comes. The luscious blossoms burst into being! What beauties! So fragrant! So delicately colorful! Also, so fragile; all too ready to wilt and to die soon after cutting.

But wait! The situation is well in hand. On that kitchen shelf stands your answer: A packet or a drum of FLORALIFE. Whisk some into water. Stir it. Then remove lower leaves from the flowers' stems and sink the delicate green stalks into the FLORALIFE solution.

A Wise Move

Ah! You can almost hear those precious posies breathe a sigh of relief. Sentence postponed. 5 to 10 extra days of life—thanks to FLORALIFE! 5 to 10 more days to feast your eyes upon your handiwork. You're proud and you have a right to be. You've done a fine job of creating beauty. And now you have a second accomplishment to your credit: You've wisely enlisted the aid of FLORALIFE. Longer life for flowers; and no water changing or stem clipping. . . . Congratulations!

There's an ancient saying about the old world's peasant women: "An hour of childhood, a day of youth, and a lifetime of old age." It reminds us of flowers. It presents a challenge. Let's do what we can to make it much more than a day of youth for flowers—especially when the way is so simple and easy: The FLORALIFE way.

Your urge to perpetuate flower life is a natural one. It came to a famous rose-grower so strongly that he began to devote all his time to this objective. He called in the best chemists he could find. He explained to them the structure of a flower and

When you next order flowers from your florist, be sure to ask him to enclose a packet of FLORALIFE. Then the flowers will last many days longer, and you will not have to change the water nor re-clip the stems! (Of course, it must be FLORALIFE and not a substitute.)

how it lives, takes nourishment and breathes; why cut flowers, unaided, can survive only a short time.

"I want a compound," he explained, "that will kill and retard the formation of bacteria. It is the bacteria, found in all water, that kill cut flowers by plugging up the stems so they no longer can drink. I want some synthesis which will prevent bacteria from clogging the tiny tubes in flower stems—so they'll remain clear—open—free to drink up moisture and nourishment just as uncut flowers do. Think of what such a discovery would mean, gentlemen! If you can find the right combination of chemicals—harmless to flowers, deadly to bacteria—petals would not oxidize and change color. Tight buds would unfold gloriously. Such types as Snaps' and Stocks would open up clear to their tips! Cut flowers would last many days longer. Thus we would multiply the days of cheer and inspiration beautiful blossoms bring to people."

Finally: Success!

With the botanical assistance of the rose grower, the chemists set to work with a will to conquer. But their goal was far away. Time passed. No perfect result had been achieved. But finally—on one great day they'll never forget—a formula was compounded that clicked! And how it clicked! The results were miraculous. A nourishing, sterilizing mixture capable of extending flower life 5 to 10 days! Patents were granted by the U.S. Government, and FLORALIFE was placed on the market.

That's what we offer you today—a patented, original compound—successful and respected; respected so thoroughly that famous florists and professional exhibitors depend on FLORALIFE as much as on the water which releases its wonder-work.

So use FLORALIFE with your home-grown blooms or with flowers from your florist. FLORALIFE—for buoyant beauty—more days of youth! . . . Order, in quantity, today!

Here is a photograph of an actual test. On the right: roses in untreated water—blossoms shrunken, petals turned from red to a dead blue and dropping off. Even the stems are wilted. On the left: bright, crisp roses with all their original color and beauty—thanks to the FLORALIFE-treated water in which they stand . . . FLORALIFE not only possesses antiseptic properties but also nourishment so pronounced that cut flowers actually grow in size! See what users say—on the next page.

WHAT Floralife USERS WRITE:

"I had an interesting FLORALIFE experience with Canterbury Bells. They were brought to me a full week before our flower show opened. I put them in FLORALIFE solution and they were as fresh as newly cut when I took them to the show." Mrs. E.K.C. Bucksport, Me.

"Obtained a packet of FLORALIFE from my florist. It preserved my flowers so beautifully that I am enclosing $1 for the bigger size." Mrs. J.W.M., Old Saybrook, Conn.

"At our meeting I told members I had no stock in the FLORALIFE Company but if they wanted to see FLORALIFE at work all they had to do was to look at the flowers on display. We gathered for three weeks before the show and practically embalmed them in FLORALIFE and a refrigerator. The flowers were as fresh on opening day as if they had just been picked!" V.G.C. Huntington, W. Va.

ECONOMY SIZES OF Floralife

Have FLORALIFE on hand at all times!

It is not enough to know that FLORALIFE will keep your cut flowers crisp, beautiful and fragrant for 5 to 10 days longer. It is equally important to have FLORALIFE in the cupboard—on hand—ready to greet all incoming bouquets. So order a bulk size and be prepared at all times to get more pleasure—over a longer period—from your flowers. (Once you treat water with FLORALIFE it does not need changing and you need not re-cut stems. Less care required—ideal in hospitals!)

REDUCED COST

Of course FLORALIFE would be a bargain if it cost several times its actual price. But why pay more than necessary? You can cut your FLORALIFE costs to a few pennies per bouquet by ordering one of the larger sizes. Bear in mind that FLORALIFE does not deteriorate.

If your dealer does not carry FLORALIFE (accept no substitute) then order direct from us.

100-QUART DRUM

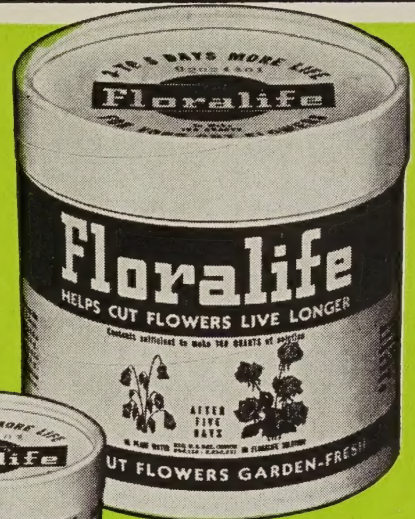

Order the "Bulk Size"

Here's the daddy of 'em all. A tremendous value and enough FLORALIFE for a long time to come! When you buy this 100-quart size you condition each vase of flowers for the cost of a postage stamp! That's a fact because the price on this big drum is only $3. If you have a flower garden, or purchase florists' flowers often, this is your buy! $3

30-QUART CAN

"Handy Home Size"

Lots of our friends order this 30-qt. size. Whenever they have flowers they simply dip into their can of FLORALIFE with a spoon and are all set to make those flowers last 5 to 10 days longer. A very handy way to keep FLORALIFE available at all times. $1

Doubles the Life of Cut Flowers

THE GIFT BOX!

Designed for both personal use and for gift purposes. It's a tremendous bargain because it contains fifteen 10c packets—a $1.50 value for only $1. Enough to treat 30 quarts. The handsome box is a perfect gift to any flower-lover; unmatched for presentation to hospital patients because FLORALIFE does away with changing water and clipping of stems; also overcomes the deadly effect on flowers of the hot, dry air so often present in homes and institutions.

The Gift Box

Only $1

SAVE 50c
(Contains 15 10c pkts.)

10c PACKET

A 2-qt. size envelope of FLORALIFE costs 10c.

Since it often more than doubles the life of your bouquets it is a real bargain. And you very likely can purchase these packets at your drug, hardware or specialty store, or at your florists. Ask for FLORALIFE, the original, patented flower-life extender.

GIFT BOX

CAUTION!

There is only one FLORALIFE, but FLORALIFE's spectacular sales success has brought imitation—and confusion. So remember the name: FLORALIFE, the original product. FLORALIFE's formula is patented and cannot be duplicated. Be sure you get FLORALIFE. (Remember a girl's name: "Flora"! and you'll be safe from substitutes named and packaged similarly to FLORALIFE.)
